Heritage New York Medical, PC

LCSW Social Worker
NYC Coverage Required

Heritage New York Medical is a group medical practice that integrates an interdisciplinary regional team approach. Our clinicians include physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Clinical Pharmacists, Licensed Clinical Social Workers, RN Care Managers and highly skilled support staff to bring the best care to patients. At HNYMPC, patient health and overall well-being is our focus. We serve patients throughout New York City, Nassau and Suffolk Counties. We use innovative technology to deliver a cutting-edge healthcare experience and to make a difference in the communities we serve.

HNYMPC is seeking Licensed Clinical Social Workers to focus on the assessment, diagnosis, treatment and prevention of behavioral conditions and management of stressful medical, social & emotional difficulties. HNYMPC primarily serves the geriatric patient population in a managed care environment. Our LCSW team focuses on providing individualized care plans and supportive, preventive tools and strategies to manage patient issues. The LCSWs participate in chronic disease management, including population-based education and address problems related to illness, treatment, and or life situations. Social determinants of health influence health outcomes, which social work plays a crucial role in addressing, to promote well-being. Our social work team focuses on factors like education, housing, food insecurity, transportation and access to healthcare, working to improve patients' living conditions and overall health.

We are seeking LCSW Social Workers to join our team, with need for coverage in the Brooklyn and Queens areas. The ideal candidate for this position will coordinate the care of older patients primarily in PCP offices or community health clinics. Telemedicine is also an integral part of services provided.
